All you'll need for this project is scissors, glue, and paper (preferably card stock so that the pieces are nice and sturdy). First, print out the pdf with the individual pieces that you will be cutting out and gluing. Use the card stock for this.

If you don't have card stock you can use regular paper and glue it to pieces from a cereal box.

Now, Cut out all the pieces and fold on the lines as needed.

Glue the pop up pieces to the box before you assemble it. If you fold your box first you may have some difficulty gluing the pieces to the inside. All the pieces as well as the box pieces are numbered so all you have to do is glue them in their proper places. Note that some pieces require being glued to two sides of the box. For these you only really need to glue the larger side of the piece to be sure it will stay.

Lastly, assemble the box. If you don't know how to fold the box you can find a tutorial on it here The only difference though is that since there are pieces glued to the top, the tabs on top of the box need to be glued on the outside. You can also decorate the outside of the box with paint, glitter, or anything else you can think of. If you want you can even create some of your own pieces! Once everything is decorated and put together you have a great Halloween tatebanko to add to your Halloween decor!
